WING NOMINATION.

FOR DELEGATE TO CONGRESS

and the state of t Cel. Collins and the Locofsco Press.

The Locofoco press, of the Territory, like a pack of half famished blood hounds, are out in full cry against Col. Colliers. This was to have been expected. In this canno warfare they show their carniverous teeth most ferociously to the Milwaukie Sentinel, the editor of which print comes in for a full share of their vitoperation. At y one at all acquainted with Locofoco tactics will scarcely wonder at this. It is a system so perfectly in keeping with the leaders of that party, that it scens to have become to them a second nature. and consequently excites no astonishment.

The first to lead off in this hellicose trade, was our very dear "democratic brother" of the Courier. He came "up to the scratch" most valuantly, and never did Don Qui totte excel him in the impetuosity of his "charge." The way the Locatoco press generally have "deployed" their "culumus" from "lines" of "open, extended order" upon our "light," our "lett," and our "centre," was almost incesistable, and certainly a caution to goosequills and paper. On the front and in the rear, and in fact on every quarter their onslaught has been impetuous, and nothing but the force of our artiflery has prevented them from turning our position.

The Courier leads off with an intimation and a threat that the Locofo, os can make as much out of a "fare bank," as the Whigs can out of the Wisconsin Bank. No one doubts thes boast when it is taken hierally. The Locoficos have always been unist successful in gammo ing and gambling the prople out of their just rights, and entailing mon the country the curse of their smedal policy and measures, and establishing their indigment ultra legislation. As regards the Cour er's "faro bank," it is not only suggested, but reduced to a certainty, that a certain gentleman of their party, who happens just at present to occupy a very prominent position before the people of Wisconsin, is by no means ignorant of the game. In fine, if evidence be wanting, it can be adduced, that the gentleman in question, at a game of faro, is, as he was in the treties that procured his nomination, "hard to beat." How hard that was, some ot his political brethren of this city can tell most truly.

Our neighbor of the Malison Argus next takes the field in most gallant style. He, like his quondom brother of the Courier, has much to say about a "farrow," and, in ad litton to that, about "milk," "Jews," "ram's horns" and "Jericho." This, a democratic wag suggests to us, would have been all well enough in its way, had he not most ungenerously touched the raw of his Courier brother by takind allusions to the "Bank of Milwaukie." That was unkind in the Argus!-and so awkward too, in his attempt to effect a home thrust at the Seatinel, to but his brother Brown such an unmercitul, wipe across the nose! Very stupid, for one lecture. We merely allude to this circum. who has a hundred eyes, like yourself, Mr. Argus, stance in order to show the total absence of all to make such a faux pas. What if the Courierdid sectorianism and the praiseworthy liberafits of wrath on the "forty thieves" who "prowled around the capital," it certainly maintained a dignified, democratic silence, and does not deserve auch a back-handed settler. In that matter you most vociferously blew the "rams horns" round "Jericho" and woke up every rook and sparrow of the democratic rookery. Was not that enough? Then why should you, at this late day, aim such a slap at the probosers of your Milwaukie brother?

The Argus affects to believe that, although Mr. Manain has once been a Bink President, and that too of a corrupt and wicked institution, that went down und left its bill bolders sufferers to an irr . parable amount, that he has since changed, and become a good democrat! That "this change of sentiment, as involving any instability or inconsistency of political character, it is nonsense to its character, but, as was announced, was of a name," &c. &c. The whole ground it assumes, as can be inferred from the tenor of its remarks, is, that Mr. Martin acted konestly in all his official transactions with the Bank of Wisconsin. How from giving an analysis of his remarks. We days" far this ground is tenable, we will not at present essay to demonstrate, but to show on what founda- who were disappointed in hearing Mr. Giles, tion the Argus predicates the honesty of those may understand the nature of his lecture. Be transactions, we have thought proper to give the contents of a letter written by Mr. Manrin, while President of that institution, to Mr. Strisugam, a succinct account of the motives that accurated the ffaternity to adopt some uniformity in the Cashier. The date, locality, and general tenor and the results that were produced by that tru- prices, and to have a general consultaof the letter sufficiently explains the period when it was written, and that part of the missive printed of the Protestant reform down to the present will doubtless be productive of benefiin capitals most amply shows for what object the day; embracing all the prominent movements cial results to all concerned. But we Store. letter was sent.

COPY OF LETTER, DATED

Manson, De. 7, 1838.

H. Strivgham, Esq. Dear Sir:-The two houses of the legislature will probably send a committee to all the banks in the Territory, as a resolution to that effect is all that will satisfy about two-thirds of both houses flit is done, the committee will leave here about the middle of next week, (say Tuesday,) AND I Protestantism, be endeavored to show some of HOPF, IT NEEDS NO ADVICE FROM ME its practical results open the civilized world; TO INDUCE YOU TO REFUSE AN EXAM-INATION OF THE BOOKS, VOUCHERS, &c. BELONGING TO THE BANK. In my opinion, it will make no difference with their report whether you refuse or not, for they will be determined to find fault below hand. I have previously written by Green, and I now write because perhaps the bearer may get to the Bay sooner than

The coming of the computue can make no difference, as you can leave instructions what course to pursue. The whole secret of these investigations is to make a hole in Doty's cost, and they do not know how to go about it.

M. L. MARTIN. The above is but one specimen of many we have in our possession from the same pen, and if the Localneo press generally are anxious for their publication, we can favor them in that respect. At present the one already given will go to show on what grounds of honesty the Argus predicates and claims a consistency of political virtue for Mr.

MARTIN. We have ever been in favor of a judicious system of banking, provided the charters of those institutions had sufficient checks and safeguards embodied in them to prevent swindling, and protest the hillholders. As we then, are bank men, we will be sufficiently explicit to answer the Argus by eaving that the fact of Mr. Manrin, their candidate, havjudgment, militate against bim, provided that in lic, if they do not go en masse to hear him.

of an inconsistent or dishonest character could be Welland Canal, at the stone Bridge, a stat disasted against him, and appropriate to this soint ance down from Grayfly Bay, the bridge at the stone of the stone letter will serve probably as a stack constant, at the Bridge, were out, but notwithstanding, the Bridge were burstless."

"What would our wives say if they have were are?" asked the Captain of a "day" asked the captain of a "day of a "day" asked the captain of a "day of a "d their political consistency?

We are by no means out of temper with our Loduct the various controversies of this campaign without descending to vituperation or bestowing upon them personal abuse. We are Whigs, and as such, are "bound" to defeat Mr. Mannis and cleat Col. Colliss, and whatever we may say in the premises we mean shall be in good nature.-On such grounds we are willing to meet them in a fair discussion of the merits and demerits of the respective candidates for the Delegacy. Our business facilities enable us to come before the public seven times during the week, and we think we shall be able to meet them on every tack they may feel disposed to take. Certain it is, that we are "determined to stay with them late," and promptly meet them at the eminence of every position they may choose to assume.

Another thing is equally certain. Before the coming canvass is ended, we mean that the independent portion of the democratic party-those who wear no collar, and bow to the behests of no Regency, shall have an opportunity of forming an hour more. unbiased judgment of the amount of political consistency that may be attached to the conduct of as hour more. Mongan L. Martin during the period of his Presidency of the Bank of Wisconsin-the threat of "fare banks," and "ran's horns" to the contrary notwithstanding

"Mr. Giles' Lecture on Protestantism.

Thursday evening we consider as having been spent the most pleasantly and profitably of any evening during our solouth in Milwaukte. At an early hour we repaired to the Unitarian what might fall from the elequent lips of a man so justly celebrated as Mr Giles.

Before the lecture, one encumstance came under our observation of which we cannot fail to make mention. By an unfortunate coincidence the Rev. Dr. Beman of Troy, perhaps the most celebrated divine of his persuasion. arrived in town a few hours previous to the lecture, and at the solicitation of his friends, consented to preach in the Congregational Church in the evening. We say it was unfortunate, because many were disappointed in not having the opportunity of listening both to Mr. Giles and to Di, Bemau. We understand that when Mr. G arrived at the church and learned the fact that Dr. Beman was to preach in the opposile house, he proposed that his audience should go over with himsef and hear him; which was objected to by those to whom the suggestion was made, inasmuch as a large audience was gathered and the hour for commencing the lecture had arrived. This Mir. Giles regreted very much as he himself had a strong desire to number of persons, the following charachear Dr. B.; and he stated that hed he known is the fact sooner, he would have postagent

"Dont!" exclaimed the would be expressed calculated to excite unplease outherner, taking out the money which sant feelings in the breasts of those opposed to Protestantism, of whom we noticed a large number in attendance; we expecte! that this have been a tirade against the Catholic Religion. But so far from indulging in the virulence and vituperative language susually expressed in such lectures, there was not the slightest remark that could be construed into even condemnation of Catholicism. The lecture was not all sectarian or controversial in | ted the southerner. "May be so," replied | purely historical and interary nature.

We regret exceedingly that both our time and the limits of our columns prevent us merely give this brief notice in order that those commerced by stating the causes that induced Protestantis n, he endeavored to show some of ledge.
